We like to feel that we are taking you on your very own Greek Odyssey across the Aegean and the Mediterranean.

Our specially designed excursions are central to your Celestyal experience with our expert guides taking you step by step through your voyage and really bringing history alive.

Sometimes in the world of history it's not easy to work out where facts end and legends begin.

So please fire up your imagination and join us to find out.

We really mean it when we say 'every moment is a destination' and 'every destination is a wonder'.

When a town is two thousand years old like Kotor there are plenty of stories to tell, its ancient Roman beginnings; its Middle Ages struggle of ownership between Goths, Saracens and Serbians; its Venetian past. With a history like this, it's no surprise Kotor has got itself a place on the UNESCO World Heritage List. And what better way to explore it than with a guided walking tour? In every stone of its timeworn walls, on every fresco painting and every hidden alley, you'll relive its glorious past. The old town center is still really well preserved and the crisscrossed narrow streets and squares have monuments at every corner.

From Prince's Palace and Napoleon's Theatre to the most recognizable symbol of the city - the Romanesque Cathedral of Saint Tryphon - you'll be mesmerized from the word go. And how many towns in this part of the world have preserved their fortifications from the middle Ages? Not many. But Kotor is one of the few. The chunky walls surrounding the old town are impressive to say the least - at some places they reach 20 meters in height and 16 meters in thickness. If you don't believe us, you'll have plenty of time to measure them in the free time you'll get here. Inside visits will be made to the Cathedral and the Maritime Museum in Kotor.

First you'll stop at the mountain village of Njegoski to taste the region's delicious prosciutto ham and cheese. Stomach full, you're ready for Cetinje. You'll imagine life when the trulli were the only kind of building allowed in the area, used for everything from homes to animal shelters. Now many are souvenir shops, craft shops and restaurants; the largest, Trullo Sovrano, is a museum. Don't forget to look up: many of the roofs are decorated with mythological or religious symbols and there's a huge variety of spire designs.

Over its long and turbulent history, Bari has been repeatedly ransacked, destroyed and rebuilt. The influence of different nations has led to a rich and diverse city, just waiting to be discovered.

We start in the labyrinthine streets of the Old Town, where you'll find the impressive Swabian Castle. With its thick walls and moat, this coastal fortress is an iconic sight. Once you've explored the ramparts and vaulted halls, it's a short walk to the Cathedral of San Sabino, a fine example of Romanesque architecture.

From here, we'll move on to the Basilica di San Nicola which houses the relics of Saint Nicholas - patron saint of Bari and, according to legend, Santa Claus. Then it's time to soak up the vibrant atmosphere of the Piazza del Ferrarese and Piazza Mercantile; adjoining squares that were the historical centres of Bari's social, economic and political life. Looking at the picturesque Italian city of Ostuni, you'd be forgiven for thinking you're in Greece. Built on three hills, it has rows of whitewashed houses gleaming in the Mediterranean sun. It's perhaps not surprising that Ostuni is known as the White City.

Its hilltop location means Ostuni boasts spectacular views: an ocean of centuries-old olive trees stretching all the way to the glimmering Adriatic coast. You'll have plenty of photo opportunities as we walk along the city walls to the Piazza della Libertà, with its stately town hall and an ornate obelisk that towers more than 20m high.

From here we climb the narrow streets to the medieval Old Town, where whitewashed walls contrast with bright flowers and potted plants. At the top of the hill, you'll find Ostuni's cathedral - Cattedrale Santa Maria Assunta - with its stunning 15th century Gothic design. The blessed island of Corfu captivates visitors with its innumerable delights, inexhaustible nature, architectural wealth and refined character. Empress Elizabeth of Austria asked to erect a mansion on the island, due to her sensitive health. Thus the Achilleion was built in 1890 by two Italian architects in Pompeian order. It is an exceptional edifice, one of the most renowned royal mansions in Europe. Empress Sissy dedicated the mansion to Achilles and decorated the yard with statues inspired by Greek mythology, such as the "Nine Muses" and "Dying Achilles".

Next is cosmopolitan Kanoni which offers unique sunsets and an incredible view of Pontikonisi island and the island with the Vlacherna Monastery. Then to the capital of Corfu, the Old Town, here you will experience a unique atmosphere with buildings that preserve ancient Byzantine and Venetian craftsmanship. The two Old Fortresses delimit the Old Town with their historical walls. The tour will bring you to the largest square in the Balkans, Spianada Square, the historical building of the British Governor, Liston with the arched colonnade. The alleyways and the cobbled streets hide many surprises, squares, gardens, and neighborhoods waiting for you to discover them.

In this fantastic scenery, full of endless olive groves, green hills and protected coves, you will find Paleokastritsa. One of the most beautiful villages of the island, it has been characterized as the “Capri of Greece”. According to some scholars, in this area Nausica found Ulysses and also here lay the capital of the Phaeacians. At the top of a low hill you will visit the male Zoodochos Pigi Monastery, a Byzantine building dated to 1228 dedicated to the Virgin. It includes a small museum with icons from the 15th century, as well as a traditional olive-press in the monastery’s interior.

We leave Paleokastritsa headed towards cosmopolitan Kanoni. The view of Pontikonisi island and the island with the Vlacherna Monastery is enchanting, and if you have the time it is well worth watching the sunset from this spot. Walk through the alleys of the Old Town of Corfu and on your strolls discover places of unique aesthetics. ATHENS MONUMENTS AND THE ACROPOLIS

Duration: Half day
Tour code: PIR-01

A walk with us through the very heart of Athens brings us to one of most recognisable, historic and most photographed sites in the world, the famous Acropolis with the Parthenon at its summit.

It is a reminder of Ancient Greece's powerful civilisation and the greatest architectural complex bequeathed by Greek Antiquity.

The monuments on the Acropolis (a UNESCO World Heritage Site) have survived for almost 25 centuries.

On this hill that still dominates Athens, democracy and philosophy were born so it is little wonder that a visit to Classical Athens is quite simply awe-inspiring.

The Parthenon is dedicated to the goddess Athena, protector of the city.

At the foot of the Acropolis and its ancient temples lies the oldest neighbourhood of Athens, Plaka. Visitors are mesmerised and charmed by its beautiful houses, cobblestone streets and tiny shops, architecture, elegant atmosphere and neo-classical colours and the well preserved gardens and Byzantine churches.

As we head away from the Acropolis and Plaka, we pass the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in front of the Parliament with the familiar sentries or Evzones, synonymous with the city. We also see the 'Trilogy of Athens' which comprises the University of Athens, National Library and the Academy of Athens.

Our three hour odyssey through ancient history ends appropriately at the Squares of Omonia and Syntagma, the very centre of modern day Athens.

We continue past the Greek Parliament Building and stop at the Panathenaic Stadium which staged the first modern Olympic Games in 1896.

We arrive at the "Trilogy of Athens": three 19th century buildings, influenced by classical architecture, on Panepistimiou Street.

A trip through Omonia Square and Syntagma Square, the epicentre of modern Athens, will bring us to the beautiful, picturesque preserved quarter of Plaka, beneath the Acropolis.

Our final destination is the modern, bright and imposing Acropolis Museum.
